

As I prepare to get married...

One of the things I am most grateful for is...(why?)

How I think our marriage will make the world a better place...

My vision of what marriage means...

One of the things that I think will be hard about marriage is...

If I could say something to my family and friends on my wedding day I would tell them...

Five things I like about my fiancé are:

Bride _____